is cortain to give it additional importance in the councils of the nation.

I observe that amopg some prominent members of Congress there is a asposition to charge me with an attempt to win the South over to Republication and a somewhat contemptuous expression of opinion that this is uittent impossible. To them I would say that I am not hopeful of winning the booth over as they say, out that the bouth has succeeded in winning me.

If ny coming has been partisan, this to-night would not have been possible, and so I may say of all receptions and expressions of good will and velcome that I have received from point to point throughout this Southern country, the very success of my trip, the very reason why it gives me so much satisfaction, is the pronounced inonpartisan character of the welcome which has been so kindly extended to me.

"I realize, therefore, that expressions of sympathy with the South and an earnest desire to bring it closer to the central government in thought and action and feeling with have comparatively little weight unless this expression is accompanied by such appointments in the South as shall prove this sympathy to be real and substantial.

"Of course, the immediate great work of the administration must be the revision of the tariff," he said. "In that work the South is quite as much interested as the North, and would have an honest and genuine revision, such as has been promised by the party in power."

Delegate Throckmorton Challenges Any One to Show Valid Objection to Proposition.

Certain that his plan for a bond issue for the improvement of the county roads meets with popular approval, Mr. C. W. Throckmorton, of Henrico coun-ty, stated yesterday that the matter was exciting the greatest interest to his proposition. He thought the only difficulty in the way was to get the matter prominently before the people.

"I am very grateful," he said, "to the newspapers of the city for their support in this matter, but I wish they would talk about it a little more and bring it to the attention of the voter. I am sure," he continued, "that no one who really understands the subject will think of opposing the bond issue. Think," he said, "of having eighty within the next year or two, willhout additional cost over road appropriation for the last year, and then having $15,000 to $20,000 left to cover other roads in the continued in the wing treads in the continued of the county within the next year or two, willhout additional cost over road appropriation for the last year, and then having $15,000 to $20,000 left to cover other roads in the continued in the wing treads in the continued to the continued the continued to the continued the continued to the support in this matter, but I wish they would talk about it a little more and bring it to the attention of the voter. I am sure," he continued, "that no one who really understands the subject will think of opposing the bond issue. Think," he said, "of having eighty miles of macadam roads in this county within the next year or two, without additional cost over road appropriation for the last year, and then having $15,000 to $20,000 left to cover other roads in the county. This is brought about by the State paying one-haif of the expense under the bond issue," "We spent $2,600 last year in working the roads, and I doubt if fifty miles of road were covered. Under the bond issue we shall have at least eighty miles of macadam road, which will require little working for a good many years, and still have left from $15,000 to $20,000 to work the other roads. No district has to pay for any roads except those within its own borders, and the law sateguards the spending of all moneys. The roads will be built by experts, under contract, and the people will get value received for every-dollar spent."

What is the deliverance of it is Jesus Christ. Listen, men. If you take Christ tonight, men, if your old passions follow you. Christ will deliver you. That is what this old story of the Red Sea means.

"And when the Israelites had passed through the Red Sea they came to Kadesh-barnea. From that place they sent out tweive spies to spy out the land of Canaan. Ten of the spies reported that the land was inhabited by giants, and could not be taken. Two reported that, even though the people were mighty, they could be overcome. The report of the ten was accepted, and the Israelites turned from Kadesh-barnea. They were lost in the wilderness and fell by the wayside. Ah! sad is the thought that they were so near and twere lost, so near and they perished. Kadesh-barnea was the turning point. Ahead of them lay the land of God, the Land of Promise."

The fore the sermon Dr. Chapman announced that he would held a special service for men only at the Academy of Music at 3 o'clock Surday afternon. RALEIGH, N. C., January 15.—The Senate Committee on Public Roads has deterred for a few days final action on the Klutz bill for creating a State Highway Commission to be composed of the Commissioner of Agriculture, the professors of civil engineering in the State University and the Agricultural and Mechanical College, and one member of the State Geological Survey. The bill involves an appropriation of $150,000, and will finally have to go to the Finance Committee also.
This amount is designed to be apportioned to counties applying for it, each county to invest three times as much as it receives aid from this State fund and the work to be under the supervision of the State commission.

Dividends PAESIDENT STOPS DAMMING OF RIVER

Says Movement to Secure Control of Water Power Is Dangerous to People,

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 15.—
President Roosevelt in his message to Congress to-day vetoing the bill providing for the construction of a dan across James River, in Stone county, Mo., the purpose of the dam being to get water to create electric power, declared that the movement to secure control of the water power to the centry is still in its infancy, but that "unless it is controlled the history of the oil industry will be repeated in the hydro-electric power industry with results far more oppressive and dangerous for the people.

"It is true," he adds, "that the great built of our potential water power is as yet undeveloped, but the siles which are now controlled by combinations are those which offer the greatest advantages, and therefore hold a strategic position." He says that "the bill gives to the grantee a valuable privilege, which by its very nature is monopolistic, and does not centain the conditions essential to protect the public interest."

In commenting upon the report of the tic, and does not contain the conditions essential to protect the public interest."

A New Departure.

In commenting upon the report of the senate Committee on Commerce, which stated that the proposed amendment to the bill authorizing the government to fix a limitation of time and impose a charge was a "new departure from the policy heretofore pursued in respect to legislation authorizing the construction of such dams," the President asserted that "when the public walfare is involved, Congress should resolve any reasonable doubt as to its legislative power in favor of the people and against the seekers for a special privilege."

"My reason for believing that the Federal government in granting a license to dam a navigable river has the newer to impose any conditions it finds necessary to protect the public, including a charge and a limitation of time," he declares, "is that its consent is legally essential to an enterprise of this character, " " " I gonsider myself bound," he says, "as far as exercise of my executive power will allow to do for the people, in prevention of monopoly of their resources, what I believe they would do for themselves if they were in a position to act."

The Great Poe Section of The Sunday Times-Dispatch

(Poe Centennial Edition)

You are interested in Poe—in his life, his works, his surroundings and his old friends and associates. Every bit of new information concerning him is valuable. What those who remember him here in Richmond have to say is absorbing. What is Poe's place among the world's great writers?

Read the Edgar Allen Poe Section of next | Sunday's Times-Dispatch. In many ways it will be an unusual piece of modern jour-

It will contain valuable and intensely interesting articles by such writers as

Prof. JAMES A. HARRISON, of the University of Virginia. Mr. J. H. WHITTY, Mr. JAMES L. WEST, Mrs. ALICE M. TYLER,

Mr. LEE HAWKINS, of the University of Virginia. | in every one.

There will be thirty-four noted pictures of Poe and his time. The front page will carry a large picture of him that can be framed for the home.

The recollections of four Richmond people now living who knew Poe will be given.

The social life of Richmond during Poe's days here will be treated, his student life at the University of Virgina and the "fake Poe poems" will be graphically told of.
